The Nutrition Implementation Coalition

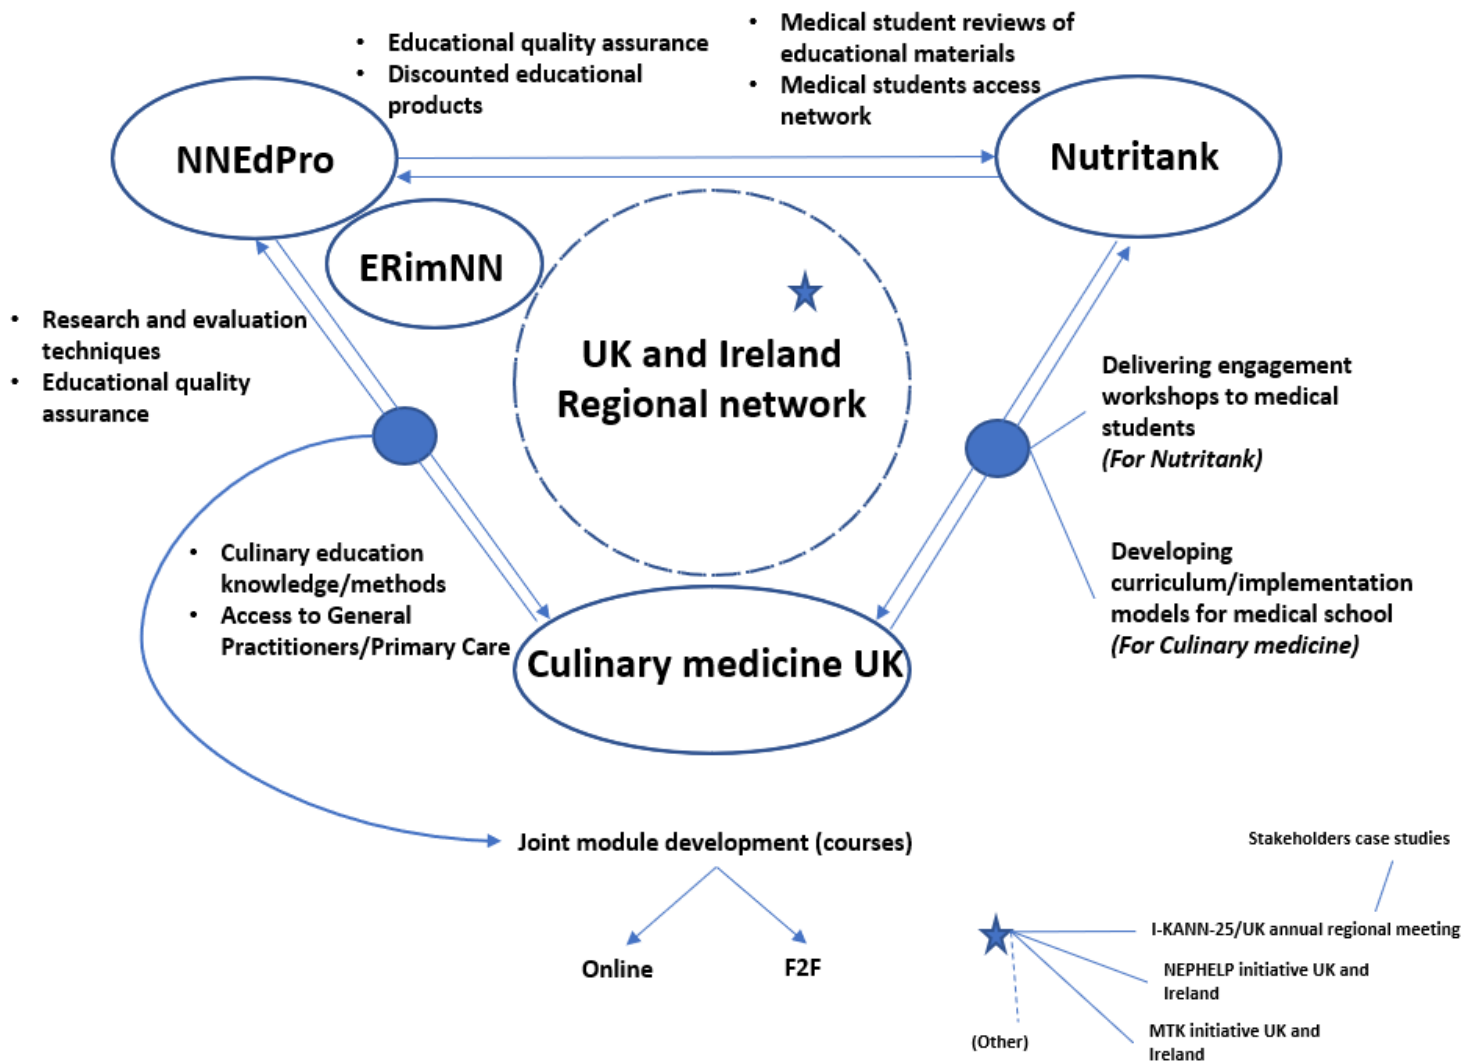

A coalition of organisations who believe we urgently need to raise the issue of a serious lack of nutrition training for health care professionals, leading to a largely neglected element of patient care and population health. This coalition will meet quarterly and form the steering committee for the NNEdPro-ERimNN UK and Ireland Regional Network.

ERimNN is the 'Education and Research in Medical Nutrition Network' co-founded by Kathy Martyn and Elaine MacAnaninch in Brighton. ERimNN is a KEY STRATEGIC PARTNER of the NNEdPro Global Centre for Nutrition and Health in Cambridge with cross appointment of ERimNN founders into the Executive of the NNEdPro Global Innovation Panel and reciprocal/equivalent cross appointment of relevant NNEdPro leaders into ERimNN.

Purpose of the Nutrition Implementation Coalition

- Broadening the conversation about nutrition in health for patient benefit;
- Increasing the education around food competence in health professionals' curricula;
- Designing and implementing, educational resources for health professionals;
- Implementation research and evaluation around nutrition and diet; and
- Sustainable nutrition focus to support healthcare.
